THE PLANET WHERE EVERYTHING GOES BACKWARDS

WORKSHEET

Synopsis

This is a funny poem about strange things that are going on beyond our solar system in planet that is very far away in space.

- Here in this planet things happen backwards; they don't happen as things are supposed to happen generally. In this planet cooks wash the dishes before the meals start, potatoes are unpeeled, and when dinner is put in the oven it comes out cold instead of hot. Fuel is taken out of the car in petrol pumps. When football is played, they start the game by breaking the ball in half and both the teams get zero in scores.

Here when someone starts to cry you know something bad is going to happen. And on this planet the people get younger instead of getting older and they greet the people or each other by saying good bye
