

Welland Gouldsmith School
Computer revision worksheet
Class : 3

This revision work is to be done in the inter leaf computer exercise book.

Q1. Answer the following questions:

- a) What do you mean by sorting desktop icons?
- b) What is an icon?
- c) Why is the CPU called the brain of a computer?
- d) Give the full form of IPO. How does a computer follow the IPO cycle?

Q2. Fill in the blanks:

- a) The Windows _____ is loaded into the _____ of a computer when it is switched on.
- b) The picture in the _____ of the desktop is called the _____ background.
- c) Various _____ can be done by just clicking a _____ .
- d) A computer system also needs _____ to run the _____ .
- e) _____ is a popular operating system.
- f) CU also helps in communication between the _____ unit and the _____ .

Q3. Give the meanings for the following:

- a) taskbar
- b) screen saver
- c) program
- d) CU

Q4. Match the following:

- | | |
|-------------------------|----------------------|
| a) IPO cycle | does calculations |
| b) Television software | CPU box |
| c) ALU | input process output |
| d) Hardware | change channels |
| e) Start button | type commands |
| f) CUI operating system | shut down |
| g) Start menu | desktop |

Q5. Name them:

- a) Three hardware devices of a computer system.
- b) Three hardware parts of a television.
- c) Pressing and holding a mouse while moving.
- d) The menu having a list of programs.
- e) A menu having a list of options.

Q6. Choose the correct answer:

- | | | |
|---------------------------------|------------------|-------------------------------|
| a) To select an icon | i) click on it | ii) click anywhere outside it |
| b) Sorting icons by | i) date modified | ii) menu |
| c) Icon stands for | i) hardware | ii) software |
| d) ALU is the main component of | i) CU | ii) CPU |
| e) Process in IPO cycle is | i) memory | ii) data and result |

