

Food for animals

Animals like cows, goats, horses, zebras, elephants, deer and camels eat grass and leaves .These animals are called grass eating animals.

Animals like lions, tigers eat flesh of other animals. Such animals are called flesh eating animals.

Some animals like hens, sparrows, pigeons eat grains. These animals are called grain eating animals. Some animals have a sticky tongue. They use their sticky tongue to catch insects for their food. Such animals are called insect eating animals. Examples: lizards, frogs, spider

A spider can trap an insect in its web. Once the insect gets trapped it becomes food for the spider.

**Children please do the exercises given below in your science exercise book.

Answer the following questions:

1. What are grass eating animals?
2. What are grain eating animals?
3. What are insect eating animals?
4. What are flesh eating animals?
5. Why do animals need food?

Write true or false

1. Animals do not need food to live.
2. A goat is a grass eating animals.
3. A spider is an insect eating animals.
4. A lizard is an insect eating animals.
5. A bear is a flesh-eating animal.

Fill in the blanks:

1. All animals must eat to _____.
2. Grass eating animals eat _____ and _____.
3. Some animals eat flesh of other _____.
4. _____ eating animals eat insects.
5. They eat _____ kinds of food.

Unscramble the words

1. Shlef
2. escint
3. slmaina
4. niarg
5. Dofa

Draw or stick pictures of:

1. 2 grass eating animals
2. 2 grain eating animals
3. 2 insect eating animals
4. 2 flesh eating animals

