SECTION B

- 4) Answer the following questions.
  - a) In far off times, the elephants did not have a long trunk. They only had a blackish, bulgy, nose as big as a boot that could wriggle from side to side but could not pick up anything.
  - b) The elephant's child could now do new things like squirting river water on his back without having to kneel, plucking delicious fruit from the tree, scratching himself, picking up dead skins and rinds and he could also hit the fly dead.
  - c) Amara little village was located near the top of a steep volcanic mountain overlooking the Mighty ocean. This story took place long ago when the islands were ruled by the great Chiefs Sun and Sea.

- d) Once Amara reached the lookout point, she wanted to rest as she was old and she also thought of thanking the Chief Sea once again.
- e) In the end of the story the wild dog is called First Friend. She gave him this name because he will be our friend for always and always.
