Pronouns

Pronouns are words that take the place of nouns. We use pronouns to avoid repeating nouns.

All pronouns stand for one of three persons.

First person: I , me , we us.

Second person : You

Third person : He , him , she , her , they , them , it.

Pronouns that are the subject of a sentence are called subject pronouns. They usually come at the beginning of a sentence. Subject pronouns does the action in a sentence.

Pronouns that receive the action of the subject are called object pronouns. They usually come after the verb in a sentence.
