Possessives

Possessives are words used to show possession. They tell us that something belongs to someone.

The words my, your, our, its, his, her and their are possessives. These possessives cannot stand alone. They are followed by a noun.

The words mine, yours, ours, its, his, hers and theirs are also possessives. These possessives can stand alone. They are not followed by a noun.

The possessive 'his' can be used both before a noun and alone.
