Dictation

Midas was delighted after getting the Golden Touch. He ran out into the huge garden and touched one of the marble benches. It immediately turned into gold. He picked up a round pebble from the ground and found that he held a nugget of gold in his hand. He clapped his hands with joy.

“Wonderful! I shall have a golden palace! I will have a forest of golden trees! Everything around me will be made of gold!” Midas said. He went around turning stone and wood and marble into gold. The roses now had heavy golden blossoms and leaves, on golden stems stiff with golden thorns.
