

Class- 8
Subject- Computer
Chapter- Operating System

Recapitulation

- 1) A Computer system is a combinations of Hardware and Software.
 - 2) The software which are designed to control the operations of a computer system is called as System Software.
 - 3) Application software are designed for one specific purpose.
 - 4) An Operating system performs various functions such as starting a Computer Memory Management, Resource Management , Process Management & Files and folders management.
 - 5) CUI uses a command prompt to enter commands in the computers.
 - 6) GUI provides icons , buttons, windows and menus on the screen to give commands to the computer.
-

A. Answer the following questions:-

- 1) What is an Operating System ?
- 2) Define Command Prompt with it's Symbol
- 3) Why Command Prompt is not user friendly ?
- 4) What is GUI ?
- 5) Give 2 examples of GUI Operating System.
- 6) Name the new versions of GUI Operating System.
- 7) What is Booting ?
- 8) Give 2 examples of multi-user Operating System.

B. Differences between:-

- 1) System Software and Application Software
- 2) GUI and CUI
- 3) Single user , Multitask and Single user Singletask.

C. Answer the following:-

- 1) Write the functions performed by an operating system.
- 2) What are the advantages of GUI over CUI?

Exercise from the Text Book:

Page No- 9 (A), Page No-10 (B, C)